L&M DESIGN LLC
HONORED BY NEW JERSEY BUILDERS FOR BEST CLUBHOUSE OF THE YEAR

Atlantic City, NJ – L&M DESIGN LLC, Architects, Planners and Urban Designers of Radnor, PA, was honored for their design of Centennial Mill Clubhouse in Voorhees, New Jersey at the 2007 Sales and Marketing (SAM) Awards Gala sponsored by the New Jersey Builders Association. The project, developed by Pulte Homes/Del Webb, was awarded “Best Clubhouse/Recreation Amenities in an Adult Community.” Dave Griffiths of Pulte, is the Architect of Record for the project.

Centennial Mill Clubhouse serves as the social hub of the Pulte/Del Webb active adult community. Designed as two single-story structures—a Social Building and an adjoining Fitness Center, the two buildings total 15,000 square feet, and are “linked” by a covered pergola leading to an outdoor recreation area

The Social Building accommodates community activities with a spectacular lounge and library overlooking the formal gardens. The Fitness Center provides multiple outlets for sports enthusiasts, housing an indoor swimming pool and spa, an outdoor pool and cabana, and a fully-equipped fitness center with adjoining exercise and aerobics rooms.
